Consolidated Print Center

The Consolidated Print Center (CPC) provides high-volume mainframe and network print services to all state agencies. We can accommodate a variety of data streams and have several software tools available that can compose and format documents.

Examples of some recent accomplishments include the printing of DNR E-Licenses from the Internet and working with Retirement Services to process files generated from their new client-server pension system.

We have the ability to manage a one-time print request or improve existing processes by managing many of your routine office mailings.

PRINTING

CPC printers are designed for high volume production print applications and offer:

- Duplex and simplex imaging.

- Both cut-sheet and pin-feed stocks of various sizes are utilized on a number of different print devices.

- Merge variable data onto static electronic or pre-printed forms. All the necessary resources are digitally archived.

- Mainframe cut-sheet highlight color print that can produce one color (red, green, blue, violet, and brown) with black ink.

- The CPC works closely with Mailing Services to insure any new application development meets the USPS standards for postal discounts to maximize your overall savings. Close proximity to Mailing Services also eliminates logistics between print and mail as well as enables instant reprints for pieces damaged during processing.

- Analysts can work with your staff to determine the most efficient manner to complete your request.

FILE PROCESSING

We support several transfer protocols from a Windows 2000 environment and can work with your staff to decide the best available method for processing data files.
